MUCH TEST WORK IN KENTUCKY OIL FIELDS

Western and Northern Counties Show Results—Newcomers Invest More Capital.

Lexington, Ky., June 4.—Considering that the prevailing prices of Kentucky crude oil are the lowest ever quoted an unusual amount of test work is being conducted in various districts apart from the established fields. Work in the western and northern counties is reaching important proportions, and the capital invested in the industry has been considerably increased by newcomers, who are developing untapped fields. While the outcome of the work in fields which have no established production is a matter of speculation, some progress has been made by the drill along new lines, and prolific fields may be added to Kentucky's source of production.

New operators have lately entered several Western Kentucky counties, including Muhlenberg, Hopkins and Webster. Several drills, it is announced will shortly be put to work in these counties. Some oil and gas has already been revealed by prospecting and Muhlenberg county has shown gas in commercial quantities. Further south, in Logan county, a number of oil wells have been drilled and the field will be further tried out this summer. Warren county, bordering Logan, has also shown oil and gas in small quantities, and Kentucky operators will drill over there.

In Northeastern Kentucky, West Virginia operators have been doing some important test work in the search for the Berea grit sand. This is the formation which is so productive in West Virginia, and has been found in Lawrence county, where several small wells have been drilled. Two rigs are now up in that section. Mason county, on the Ohio river, is also being tested. In Tennessee Louisville operators have good prospecting Tipton county, and have good prospects for oil and gas. Extensive drilling operations will be carried on during the summer months.

In the established districts a scarcity of water for drilling purposes has been a handicap during the past two weeks. No rain has visited the lower Kentucky districts for over a month, and the smaller streams have run dry, making it necessary to haul water for long distances.

The best of late strikes was a twenty-five-barrel well in the Mt. Pisgah district, Wayne county, drilled by Pennsylvania operators. The strike is close to the proven district. The only other completion was a light oiler at Parnesville.

The usual amount of new work has been started lately in the lower Kentucky districts. Mainly the new work is close to the established districts. Among new operators is a New York company, which will drill in the Parnesville district.

The week in upper Kentucky was featureless, there being no completions. Some new work is in prospect for the Wolfe county field, and arrangements will probably be made to start the drill to moving within the next few days.

Crude oil production maintains a fair average, there being little difference between the weekly runs. Production for a week past was 9,964 barrels. Prices remain as formerly, 72 cents and 45 cents on the two grades.

Col. C. M. Barnett Selected.

Col. C. M. Barnett, senior editor of The Republican, has been selected as one of the managers of Judge E. C. O'Rear's campaign for Governor. He left last week for Louisville and has established headquarters at the Louisville Hotel, and will be in that city the greater portion of the time for several weeks.

Grand Jury in open Air.

Elizabethtown, Ky., June 6.—For the first time in the history of this county and perhaps the first time in the state, a session of the grand jury was convened and held in the open air. Though the thermometer was standing close to the century mark, it was not on account of the high temperature that this was done, but because Circuit Judge Chief who has been ill for some time, was unable to be moved into the courthouse. So, with Judge Chief sitting in his pony cart on the edge of the sidewalk and with the grand jurors arranged in rows beneath the shade of the great trees in the courthouse yard, the session was opened and the county attorney delivered the charge with all the solemnity that usually accompanies the opening of court.

able to be moved into the courthouse. So, with Judge Chief sitting in his pony cart on the edge of the sidewalk and with the grand jurors arranged in rows beneath the shade of the great trees in the courthouse yard, the session was opened and the county attorney delivered the charge with all the solemnity that usually accompanies the opening of court.

O'Rear Speaks at Russellville.

Russellville, Ky., June 5.—Judge Edward C. O'Rear spoke here today to about 300 people. He made about the same speech that he made at Hopkinsville, but stated that he had tried to pitch his campaign upon a high plane and would not descend to personalities with any man. He made a good impression upon his audience, many of whom were Democrats.

Lovers Drown With Others in Utah Lake.

Salt Lake, Utah June 4.—Six persons were drowned in Utah Lake today when the launch Galles, on which sixteen people were attending a party given in honor of the approaching marriage of Miss Vera Brown and Edward B. Holmes, capsized.

Among the drowned were the prospective bride and groom and two children of Capt. Edwin Brown, owner of the launch.

PRESIDENT OF I. C. VISITS BRICKLAYER BROTHER

At Hopkinsville—Met two Months ago After Many Years Separation.

Hopkinsville, Ky., June 4.—For the first time since the discovery two months ago that Charles H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central Railroad and John T. Markham, the retired brick contractor of this city are brothers the railroad president visited his brother here today.

He telephoned last night that he was coming and he arrived in his private car over the Louisville and Nashville at 5:38 o'clock and the brothers met at 8 o'clock. Their meeting was hearty, but not unduly effusive.

It had been expected President Markham would remain here all day, but he left at 10 o'clock going to Nortonville and thence over the Illinois Central to Chicago. John Markham accompanied him as far as Dawson Springs where he will spend several days.

While here President Markham was introduced to a number of the leading business men, visited the local offices of the Illinois Central, and was taken for an automobile trip over the town. He warmly complimented the town for its evident thrift, prosperity and beauty, and when he left stated he would pay frequent visits here in the future.

Soon after the discovery of the relationship the brothers met in Memphis and fully established their kinship. This is their second meeting. They were born at Clarksville. John being several years the older, and separated soon after the Civil War and the family going North except John since which all trace had been lost until the newspapers in announcing Charles Markham's election to the Presidency of the Illinois Central gave a sketch of his life.

Centertown Bank to Open.

A few weeks ago an application was made to Secretary of State Bruner asking that a charter be granted to the new bank at Centertown. The request was refused, and it was thought that the people of Centertown would not get a bank.

Later the Secretary of State decided to grant the charter, and has so informed the stockholders of the new institution. Mr. Alvin Rowe, assigned for the Bank of Centertown, was interviewed yesterday afternoon and he stated that a meeting of the stockholders was held Tuesday and he thought within less than four weeks the new bank would be in operation. Since the dissolution of the Bank of Centertown the people of that city have labored hard to organize a new bank, and it is with much gratification that they learn they will get the charter. Fifty per cent of the stock will be taken by Evansville capitalists as was planned some time ago.

OHIO COUNTY WINS OUT IN BAIRD CASE

Great Victory for the County in Winning Suit—Saved of Paying Over $11,000 and Cost.

In the United States Circuit Court, for the Western District of Kentucky the case of A. B. Baird vs. Ohio County, was decided by Judge Evans, last Friday in favor of Ohio County. The case was tried the first week in May, at Owensboro, for the second time, having been sent back from the Circuit Court of Appeals at Cincinnati, about one year ago. The decision is a complete victory for Ohio County, and the attorneys representing the county in the case, Judge Evans decided the case against the plaintiff, but the opinion handed down by the Court of Appeals left him very little room to aid the plaintiff at this trial, saying in his opinion that he had endeavored to be liberal to the plaintiff, in as much as he considered it difficult for him to make out his case under the opinion of the court. Judge Evans dismissed the plaintiff's petition with cost. It has been a long, hard, uphill fight for the defendants and the county has really been the party which has been placed in a difficult position to defend its interests because of the ancient origin of the case and the death of nearly all of the witnesses who could have testified to material facts for the county. However right and justice have prevailed and the county is saved an immense amount of cost and the payment of over $11,000.00 as unjust claim as was ever attempted to be collected. Had Ohio County lost this case it would have embarrassed the Fiscal Court in the management of her financial affairs for years to come and would have forced the county to go without many needed improvements which can now be provided for. The result is a great victory for Ohio County and her citizens.

New Lawyer for Hartford.

HON. OTTO C. MARTIN.

The above is a splendid likeness of Hon. Otto C. Martin, of this city, who has just been graduated from the Law Department of Kentucky State University, with the degree of Bachelor of Laws.

Mr. Martin is another of the native sons of Ohio County that has made a splendid record for himself, his town, and his county. He is the son of Ex-Sheriff and Mrs. R. B. Martin, and is a young man of sterling worth and splendid attainments.

While yet a young man he has received an education and training that many older men never receive. Three years ago he was graduated from Hartford College, and while a student in that institution did splendid work, which was favorably mentioned by the President, Prof. L. N. Gray. In September following his graduation in Hartford he went to Lexington to attend the Kentucky State University. At that place he took one year's work in the classical course before entering the Law Department, thus fitting himself in a literary line for his law work. Only a few days before graduating from Kentucky State University Mr. Martin went to Cincinnati, Ky., where he successfully passed one of the most rigid bar examinations ever given to a member of a graduating class. He is naturally talented in his chosen profession, and in his school days at Hartford College and at Kentucky State University was noted for his oratorical attainments. His many friends will be glad to learn that he has decided to locate in Hartford, and wish him much success.

YOUNG MAN STRUCK BY TRAIN AT DEANFIELD

Is Taken to Fordsville for Medical Attention—Man Attempted to Flag the Train.

A. P. Pryor, a young farmer living near Deanfield, was struck by the Illinois Central passenger train a few miles from Deanfield Monday morning and as a result he sustained two severe fractures of the skull, which the doctors who attended him think are necessarily fatal.

The young man was standing on the track and attempted to flag the train, which was running very slowly, in order that his wife might catch the train and go to Deanfield. As the train approached, he stayed on the track and was struck by the engine.

The force of the blow rendered him unconscious and when he was picked up and placed in the baggage car on the train, he was bleeding at the nose, and ears, his head was badly cut and it was at first thought that he was dead.

He was taken to Fordsville where the surgeons for the railroad company did every thing that they could for the man and where he is still being cared for. It is thought however that the injuries which he sustained will prove fatal.

The man's wife was standing near the track at the time of the accident and was a witness to the whole affair. It is stated by several of the passengers that the railroad company was not at fault and that the accident could hardly have been averted.

Jett was at lunch in a Greek restaurant when the negro entered the place and sat down on a stool beside him. Jett ordered him out and was upheld by the manager. The negro walked outside and attacked Jett. Jett was not much hurt and promptly telephoned the police, who looked Maupin up. He has a bad record in Madison county.

Another letter to this effect was received a month ago, but no attention was paid to it, as it was thought to be only a prank. There is no clue to the identity of those guilty.

D'REAR'S STATITUDE TOWARD LAWLESS

Tells Lyon County Voters if Elected Governor He will Use Power to Prosecute all Offenders.

Kuttawa, Ky., June 4.—Judge E. C. O'Rear, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, spoke to a good crowd of Lyon county voters here yesterday. Judge O'Rear has not been billed to speak but as there was a good crowd here he was solicited to discuss the issues of the day. Many wished to hear him express himself, especially on the night rider question.

It has been charged that Judge O'Rear was in sympathy with the night rider organization in Kentucky, but his speech here left no doubt in the minds of his hearers that he is in favor of the full enforcement of the law. He pledged himself if elected Governor to use every effort in his power to prosecute all offenders against the law, both high and low.

Judge O'Rear met many voters during his short stay here, many of them being Democrats, and particularly "law and order men" all of whom seemed to feel kindly toward him. From present indications Judge O'Rear will get Lyon county's instructions in the county convention.

Thomas B. McGregor, of Marshall county and candidate for Attorney General, was with Judge O'Rear. Mr. McGregor was the Republican candidate for Representative in the Lyon-Marshall district four years ago, and carried the county over John L. Smith, the Democratic nominee.

He is a member of the Miners Union and has been for the past 10 or 12 years. Mr. Leach is a Republican and is well qualified to fill the position to which he aspires.

Cottrell, on South Allen street, to whom his mother was paying a visit. The funeral took place from Mr. Cottrell's residence, conducted by Rev. M. A. Jenkins, the interment being at Elmwood cemetery.

LOST PRISONER WALKS INTO THE PENITENTIARY

Makes no Effort to Escape Sentence—Calmly Waits for Officer to Arrive.

Frankfort, Ky., June 5.—"Has a Deputy Sheriff from Bell county been here? I am William Hill and I am to serve five years in this place."

This rather surprising announcement was made to the clerk of the penitentiary this morning by a tall, good looking man, who walked into the office at the entrance of the prison. The guards and Col. E. E. Mudd, the warden, began to question the man. He said his name was Hill and that he had been brought to Frankfort by a Deputy Sheriff from Bell county, but had become separated from the officer, in the crowd about the L. & N. depot. Hill said he thought the officer had gone on to the penitentiary and as he knew the way, Hill went on to the prison.

As there were no commitment papers the warden could not receive Hill as a prisoner and the soon-to-be convict sat on a bench in front of the penitentiary for an hour waiting for the Deputy Sheriff to appear with the papers. That official finally appeared and Hill was admitted as a convict. The deputy said he knew that Hill would make no effort to escape and could be trusted, so he had not paid much attention to his prisoner after they alighted from the train. The deputy stopped to talk to an acquaintance he met on the depot platform and became separated from his prisoner. When he missed Hill he made a short search and then went to the prison, expecting to find Hill there. He was not disappointed.

Hill killed a man who, it is said, was attacking his father and about to crush his head with a stone. He also shot another man who started to draw a weapon, after the first killing. The case attracted some attention at the time, and now that Hill has showed his honesty it is likely that an effort will be made to shorten his prison term.

LOUISVILLE REPUBLICANS

Unite in Support of O'Rear for Governor.

Jefferson County Delegation Will Go to Convention Instructed for Him.

Louisville, Ky., June 1.—A general air of good feeling inside the Republican party in Louisville has followed the unanimous action of the city and county committee last evening in adopting a set of rules for the Republican primaries July 8, next, satisfactory to all.

The most important results are now expected and the Republican party in Louisville are about to unite upon the basis of sending the solid vote of Louisville to the State Republican convention instructed for O'Rear for Governor. This does away with any fight inside the party in Louisville and seems to insure harmonious party action upon all matters.

It is generally believed that it will result in sending to the polls in November that has ever been known here. Much credit for the present satisfactory conditions is assigned by party men to Capt. Charles F. Ogden, Mr. Frank Russell, Mr. J. M. Chilton and Mr. Herman P. Monroe on one side and Mr. Alex. G. Barrett, Mr. M. J. Holt, Mr. William Krieger and Mr. James F. Grinstead on the other.

While not participating in partisan politics to an unbecoming extent Mr. L. F. Petty has also used his influence as a citizen to smooth away difficulties. Mr. Petty said to-day:

"Originally I believed the strongest man the Republicans of Kentucky could nominate for Governor was Mr. Edward Morrow, of Somerset, and everybody I think will concede Mr. Morrow's ability and availability. However, Mr. Morrow decided not to be a candidate and we have him in reserve for some future emergency.

"A thing stands, I am convinced that Judge O'Rear will be the nominee for Governor, and he will be a strong candidate. I am strongly of the opinion that he should be nominated without any useless friction. My information is that every delegate from Louisville and Jefferson county will be instructed for a disastrous war within the party."

Mr. M. J. Holt, an original O'Rear man said to the Evening Post: "The outlook is for a unanimous O'Rear delegation from Louisville. Nobody has surrendered no faction has got the best of it; we are all, or nearly all, O'Rear men among the Republicans of Louisville. A disastrous party fight will be avoided by mutual concessions, and I hope that we will be able, with equal harmony, to name a local Republican ticket that will bring many votes to O'Rear and the State Republican ticket."

Mr. Charles F. Ogden, Mr. A. G. Barrett, Mr. J. M. Chilton, Mr. Lafon Allen, Mr. Albert Spies, Frank Russell, Dr. T. Baker and Mr. Ben Kelly are all equally animated with action and equally anxious to give O'Rear the solid vote of Louisville.

In all that has happened Senator W. O. Bradley has maintained his attitude of strict neutrality, as evidenced by the fact that some of his friends have been for Cox, Franks and O'Rear. The Republicans gradually drew together for O'Rear and this fact practically ends the contest for the nomination for Governor.

The fact that the Republican party in Louisville has united to support O'Rear quickly spread to the State headquarters of the various candidates for Governor and by universal consent was interpreted as meaning the end of any contest for the nomination for Governor.

The only hope of the anti-O'Rear forces through the whole contest has been the selection of an anti-O'Rear delegation from Louisville. Now that Louisville is assumed to O'Rear by a union of nearly all the party leaders backed by the approval of the voters of both factions the fight against O'Rear in the State will at once be abandoned.

There will be 2,356 delegates to the State convention. It will take 1,179 votes to nominate, Jefferson county having 272 votes.

Mr. Bowers on Advertising.
Duke Bowers, who runs thirty-five grocery stores in Memphis says it is hard for him to understand why some people do not believe in advertising.

That Mr. Bowers believes in it, it is strongly evidenced by the fact that he monopolized about one-half the space of one issue of a Memphis paper of last Tuesday. And it is a small paper as papers go. It has four teen pages of eight columns to the page. One entire section of four pages is devoted to matter supplied by Mr. Bowers and the larger section has a Bowers "ad" on every page except the first, including on page devoted to current quotations of grocery prices at Mr. Bowers thirty-five temples of economy."

The space occupied by Mr. Bowers is not all devoted to groceries for he is something of a philosopher and he discusses some matters as a side line to his commercial enterprises. Among other things he tells what he thinks about advertising. Incidentally he remarks that his advertisements which appeared in those Memphis dailies last Tuesday cost him "about as much as it would cost to open another store." This he thinks, is a pretty good demonstration of his faith in newspaper publicity, "for the fruits of this advertising to yield so abundantly that it won't cost me a penny."

Mr. Bowers says he has spent more for newspaper space since he located in Memphis than he is worth, but he believes if he had sent only half as much for advertising he wouldn't have been worth half as much as he is at present. Some business men argue he says, that they have succeeded without advertising and, hence, cannot see any use of it. To which Mr. Bowers answers, "Yes, and the chance are that if these same persons had been constant advertisers the success they would have made would have been as far ahead of their present success as Memphis is ahead of Hopefield, Ark."

Some day, Mr. Bowers thinks "everybody will be convinced that it pays to advertise." To such as are not convinced the statements of the Memphis grocer are worth considering. They are based on the experience of a business man who has thoroughly tested the publicity method for getting business and who is so well satisfied with the results that he is yearly increasing his outlay for newspaper advertising.

Will Can Alfalfa Roots.
Portland, Ore., June 6.—That the roots of the alfalfa will be used intensively for human food is the belief of C. F. Waters an enterprising farmer living near Spray, Ore. He has experimented with the plant until he firmly believes it will be highly prized as an article of diet and he expects to be in the business of canning alfalfa roots.

Not only is the new food said to be highly nourishing but it is very palatable as well and will be used, it is thought quite generally as soon as it has been tested. High appreciation is expected to follow its general use. Not only vegetable dishes can be made from alfalfa roots but desserts as well.

LITERATURE AND DRAMA NOT IN A BAD WAY.

The following from the Chicago Inter-Ocean speaks our sentiments along certain lines we have heard some pessimistic people in Hartford talk about. Nothing apparently ever suits them, and they are bound to grumble all the time, especially in the public places. The press never suits them; the lodges never suit, for they detract from other things so they claim; and in fact these pessimists never see anything except with a "dark brown" vision. The Inter-Ocean says:

There are not a few persons in this world who of all things despise the time in which they happen to be living, and to whom the past—however dull or wicked, it really was—appears immeasurably better than these days, the present. 'Tis the pet delight of such persons to mourn what they term the downward plunge of art, especially in so far as the stage and literature are concerned.

As to the stage, they claim that all the plays are bad, and that we have not one true actor left upon the stage—the last one having died with Booth. And yet the truth is that the average play performed these latter days is the superior—both in plot and language—of the average play presented up to twenty years ago; and that there are to-day a good score of competent actors, who refuse to "mouth and rant and tear the scenery to bits, for every one such player found in their "dear good old times."

Coming to literature, it's a fact that we are at present without Thackerays and Dickens and Poe and Hawthornes. But, nevertheless, there live some writers of right vivid prose, and poetry is not entirely dead. And, on the whole, the literary tone of our own days is truer, stronger and more human than it has been generally in the past. By this we mean that, judging from the books of fiction of the last two or three years, one has a sort of right to prophesy the advent, reasonably soon, of the just golden mean in literature, the really realistic novel, free alike from smut and prudishness. The which does certainly speak bravely for the present, for our days even though this same present has not brought a lot of geniuses before the world.

However, there is probably no use in seeking to have the past-manias look upon the present with fair tolerance. It is of their kind, no doubt, that it was written:

He had no eyes in front, this man,
Back of his head they were instead.
Wherefore he couldn't view at all
That which went on before, ahead,
And consequently: "There is no
To-day to see! To-day is dead!

Hurrah for Yesterday—so fine.
So great, so beautiful!" he said.
They cannot see; they have "no eyes in front." And so they are not greatly to be blamed—nay, they are to be pitied, rather. For there is indeed a happy dawn to see.

Hieroglyphics Discovered.

Portland, Ore., June 5.—Claiming that hieroglyphics recently discovered on a huge stone on the Columbia River are almost contemporaneous with the building of pyramids of Egypt, F. H. Saylor, of Portland, has aroused considerable interest in the discovery and the immense rock bearing the mystic inscription has been placed in the city museum.

Mr. Saylor claims to translate the hieroglyphics, saying they are in part astronomical records, while the remainder constitute a prophecy. He says the markings were made over 3,000 years ago and are similar in character to the hieroglyphics of the ancient Mayas in Central America, which were the most highly civilized of any of the prehistoric tribes inhabiting the western continent. Mr. Saylor's discovery, if it bears the close scrutiny of scientists, will be of great importance to students of archaeology.

When you have rheumatism in your foot or instep apply Chamberlain's Liniment and you will get quick relief. It costs but a quarter. Why suffer? For sale by all druggists.

A Peep Into the Pocket.

Would show the box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve that E. S. Loper, a carpenter, of Marlita, N. Y., always carries. "I have never had a cut, wound, bruise, or sore it would not soon heal," he writes. Greatest healer of burns, boils, scalds, chapped hands and lips, fever-sores, skin-eruptions, eczema, corns and piles. 25c at all druggists.

Animals in Proverbs.

If you want a pretense to whip a dog it is easy enough to say he ate up the frying-pan.

An ass covered with gold is more respected than a good horse in a pack-saddle.

A braying ass eats little hay. An ass does not hit himself twice on the same stone.

Better an ass that carries me than a horse that throws me. A good horse cannot be of a bad color.

It's the abilities of the horse that occasion his slavery.

All like a bitten dog. Give a dog an ill name and you may as well hang him.

A scalded dog is afraid of cold water. When cats are mousing they don't mow.

He who hunts two hares together catches neither. A little sheep always seems young.

Milk a cow, but don't pull off the udder. Of what use is a cow that gives plenty of milk if she upsets the pail?

Lightning Kills Few.

In 1906 lightning killed only 169 people in this whole country. One's chances of death by lightning are less than two in a million. The chances of death by lightning are less than two in a million. The chances of death from liver, kidney or stomach trouble is vastly greater, but not if Electric Bitters be used, as Robert Madden, of West Burlington, Ia., proved. Four doctors gave him up after eight months of suffering from violent liver trouble and yellow jaundice. He was then completely cured by Electric Bitters. They're the best stomach, liver, nerve and kidney remedy and blood purifier on earth. Only 50c at all druggists.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce Hon. C. P. Keown a candidate for Representative from Ohio county in the next General Assembly of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Republican party.

We are authorized to announce Albert Leach a candidate for Representative from Ohio County in the next General Assembly of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Republican party.

Look out, Governor Thatcher! The newspapers state that you have recently purchased a $35,000 building in Louisville. Some probe committee will be asking where you got the money.

Let us have a clean state campaign conducted on a high plane. No mud slinging. Let the issues be clean cut and fairly stated and let the best men be chosen to represent us at Frankfort.

Just as the Democrats thought they were out of the woods, Mr. Bryan has broken loose and is pouring hot shot into the members of that party in the lower house of Congress for the surrender on the wool schedule.

President Taft is still harping on reciprocity and seems to think that the price of food stuff to the consumer can be reduced without any way hurting the farmer. His argument to prove this is a little short of ridiculous.

Judge E. C. O'Rear is a friend of organized labor always and everywhere. He should have the hearty support of every member of every union labor organization in Kentucky, both in convention and in the general election in November.

We are very much afraid Mr. Franks borrowed Senator Blackburn's old flint lock musket on the recent trip of that ex-statesman to Owensboro. The speeches of Mr. Franks partake very much of the nature of Blackburn's in many respects.

Verily, we are fallen upon strange times. A Republican applicant for a position in one of the departments at Washington, was recently advised by a member of President Taft's cabinet that he would have to have the endorsement of Congressman O'He James.

So many Democrats are announcing themselves for Judge O'Rear for governor that the race is taking on a non-partisan appearance, and if it keeps up there may be a lively contest between the Democrats and Republicans as to which shall have the honor of casting the most votes for him at the November election.

The farmers are going to the polls in Kentucky this fall as they have never gone before, and the candidate who places himself in line for office who has not been friendly to this class of our citizens in the past had better stand from under. The farmer is going to vote as he prays this year.

Perhaps the most remarkable thing about the O'Rear boom is the strength in the city of Louisville, which is expected to send a delegation instructed for him to the state convention on July 11. He is indeed a wonderful candidate who has not only the rural districts but the cities for him for Governor.—Third District Review.

No one has ever claimed that the farmer is getting too much for what he produces. The trouble about high prices to the consumer all originates between the farmer and consumer. Some wholesome legislation by the various legislatures and also by Congress might accomplish something far better and more effective than any reciprocity treaty, which could be arranged.

Anyone who has been over the roads in Ohio county, which have been recently put in order by the new system of road working cannot fail to be impressed with the great improvement over the old way of working roads. As we have many times stated in these columns, a little patience upon the part of our citizens and they will be congratulating themselves over the best roads in any part of the state. Give the new system a fair and impartial trial.

President Taft announces that he is reasonably sure of 22 Republicans in the Senate for the reciprocity measure and 37 Democrats. This is a much larger proportion of the Republicans than he should have, but the figures will indicate clearly to what extent the measure is Democratic, and the farmers will please make a note of this. When it passed the House recently a majority of the Republican members in that body voted against it and it is reasonably sure that the majority of the Republican members of the Senate will do likewise.

Howling for Free Wool.

(Lampasas Tex. Blade.)

Hon. J. O. Terrell of San Antonio, who was the Republican nominee for Governor of Texas last year and didn't make much of a race but did make some mighty good speeches, has written the following communication for the Houston Post, and the same was published in that paper last Sunday:

I always enjoy reading the paragraphic wit in the Post, but just at this time your Tariff editorials are really affording me the most amusement. Last year when I was doing a little sermonizing on the Tariff question, and was particularly favorable to a Tariff on wool, the Post started with considerably more force than politeness that I was wasting my time, and that the opinions of the people of the South on the Tariff question had been finally and irrevocably fixed. Now it seems they have in some way become "unfixed," and while the Post is arguing my way the national Democracy, beyond all question, is drifting the other way, and drifting beyond redemption. We are going to have "free wool" again as we had in Cleveland's time, the only time of Democratic supremacy in a half century. In that delightful era we not only had "free wool" but to quote the wit of a friend of mine, we came within 4 cents a pound of having "free cotton." Wool and cotton are natural rivals, but wool brings the highest price. In Cleveland's time, wool having no Tariff tax to pay, was sold on the Boston market from Asia, Africa and Australia at less than 7 cents per pound. Cotton promptly dropped far below that price, but the people of the South seem to have forgotten that fact. We are going to have free wool—7-cent wool—again. Does any reader of the Post believe that when wool is selling at 7 cents, that cotton will sell at 15? Does any citizen of the great cotton State believe that a cotton blanket, or a cotton suit will soon sell for more money than a woolen blanket or a woolen suit? Yet Southern Democracy is howling "free wool." Nearly all of our representatives in Congress will vote for "free wool." "Father, forgive them, they know not what they do."

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness shown us during the illness and death of our dear son, Samuel Lee. God's blessing is promised to those who aid in distress, and their reward is sure in heaven, if we should not, as we wish, find it possible to return it here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Schapshire.

ANNIVERSARY OF ADOPTION OF FLAG

By Congress—Everyone Should Raise a Flag Next Wednesday.

The American Flag Association is sending out letters all over the country stating that June 12th will be the 124th anniversary of the adoption by Congress of the flag which has remained ever since the symbol of the United States.

The observance of this anniversary is becoming annually more general, chiefly through the activity of the American Flag Association. Next year being the one and one-quarter centennial, there will probably be some special national effort made for a general celebration.

The American Flag Association has issued the following appeal for a general observance of "flag day" on June 14, sent out by Mrs. Neville Bullitt, vice regent Filson Chapter, D. A. R., and Mrs. Will S. Hays, Albert Sidney Johnston Chapter, U. D. C.

"We respectfully appeal to the President of the United States of America, to the Governors of all the States of our land and to the Mayors of each American city to herald the coming celebration of flag day, June 14, 1911, by proclamation. We call upon every public officer, every teacher of the youth of our land, the editors of all newspapers, the daily instructors of the youth of our country, to call public attention, to arouse enthusiasm and to provide for public exercises and general celebration of the day. We earnestly exhort our citizens to join in making flag day an event and its celebration in 1911 a great event. Let us from one end of our land to the other fling the Stars and Stripes to the breeze on June 14. May it greet the rising and salute the setting sun and float all day long from every church edifice, school and building, public and private and wherever humble, through the entire land. Gov. Wilson has issued a proclamation calling on all citizens of Kentucky to observe Flag Day on June 14. He calls on the mayors and county officers and keepers of public buildings to make Wednesday, June 14 a day to raise the flag all over the state of Kentucky.

MRS. GREGORY BURIED IN HARTFORD MONDAY

Was Resident of This City Twenty Two Years Ago—Widow of Judge Gregory.

Mrs. Zelma Berry Gregory, widow of Judge Wm. F. Gregory, who died in Hartford about 22 years ago, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Butler, at Charleston, S. C., last Friday June 2, after a protracted illness of liver trouble.

Her remains were brought back to Hartford and interred beside her husband in Oakwood cemetery. The corpse arrived Monday and funeral services were conducted by Pastor J. W. Bruner at the Baptist church, of which she was a faithful member and where she taught a class of boys in the Sunday School many years ago. The interment followed.

Mrs. Gregory left Hartford with her daughters, Annie and Parkie, and son Roy, about fourteen years ago, going to some point in Georgia. She was a daughter of Dr. Berry, one of the most noted physicians of Ohio county, and a good woman of rare intellectual traits. The Gregory family is well and pleasantly remembered by our older citizens.

Relatives who accompanied the corpse to Hartford were: Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Walker, of Louisville; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Butler, of Charleston, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. John Camden, of Jacksonville, Fla., and her brother, Dr. John Morgan Berry, of Leitchfield, Ky., her son Roy, who lives at Atlanta, Ga., was with her in her last illness, but was unable to accompany her remains all the way back to the old home town for burial.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.
(A Special Department for Our Housekeepers. Contributions Accepted.)

POPULAR CHARLOTTE RUSSE.

One quart of sweet cream beaten stiff, one half cup of pulverized sugar stirred into the beaten cream; vanilla flavoring to taste. Dissolve one half package of gelatin in as little cold water as possible, set on the stove, and let come to a boil. Then let stand until partly cold and stir quickly into the beaten cream. Dip a mold into cold water and line with lady fingers, cookies or sponge cake. Turn the beaten cream into mold and set away in ice to cool; should stand four or five hours before using. If in warm weather and without ice, let it stand over night. When ready to serve dip the mold in hot water for an instant, then the cream will turn out on a plate like jelly. This makes a good dessert, too, at a dinner or luncheon. The full recipe will make enough for eight people.

APPLE PUFF.

Pool and grate enough apples to make two cups. Beat the whites of five eggs stiff, with four tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar, stir in quickly the grated apples and two teaspoonfuls of lemon juice. Turn into a pudding dish and bake for 30 minutes. Eat as soon as baked with a hot custard sauce.

ROAST HAM.

Wash and scrape carefully and soak in cold water 24 hours. Scrape again and dry thoroughly. Make a dough with two quarts of flour and water enough for a stiff paste. Roll this into a sheet large enough to wrap the ham. Fold the ham in it and place on a meat rack in the dripping pan. Bake in a moderately hot oven six hours. On taking from the oven remove the paste and skin. Sprinkle with fine crumbs and return to the oven for half an hour. Dust carefully with cayenne and baste every five minutes with wine, using one cup of claret and two tablespoonfuls sherry. It will be delicious either hot or cold.

ORANGE MARMALADE.

Two large sour seedless oranges, two lemons, 11 cups of water. Shave fruit fine and cover with 11 cups of water. Let stand 24 hours and then boil 20 to 25 minutes. Let stand 24 hours again and finally boil down with eight cups of sugar. Will make about eight jelly glasses.

KEEP OUT OF RUT IN COOKING.

Housewives should break the monotony in household duties by studying different ways of preparing things to eat as well as they study embroidery stitches. The common bacon can be made palatable by cooking thin slices little, then taking them out, dip in the white of an egg, and roll in cracker crumbs and return to the fat and brown. When served with minced green pepper it is good to eat and to look at.

SAVE CUCUMBER PARINGS.

Save cucumber parings and lay on shelves and in drawers where othered with ants and roaches. They will soon disappear. If ants or roaches are bad, try leaving the shelves without paper for awhile in addition to using the cucumber parings.

AMMONIA KILLS FISH ODOR.

A little household ammonia on a dishcloth will sweeten coffee pots and will remove all fish odors from dishes and hands used in its preparation.

NEW KITCHEN UTENSIL.

For picking fruits such as green walnuts and plums in preserving time cut stick pins through the cork thickly. This will prove a great time saver where a quantity of fruit is to be done at once.

COVER THE ROLLING PIN.

Take piece of heavy unbleached muslin the length of your rolling pin and as wide around as rolling pin. Sew up. Hem across the top of opening and put on a loop made of muslin to hang up by.

ENGLISH RHUBARB.

Line a deep buttered pudding dish with slices of bread or pie paste rolled thin. Cover with a layer of chopped rhubarb and spread thickly with sugar. Make a custard of one pint of milk; yolks of two eggs; a little salt and half a cupful of granulated sugar. Pour it over the rhubarb. Bake in a moderate oven until the custard is set; then spread the top with a meringue made of the whites of two eggs and half a cupful of sugar. Brown delicately.

COFFEE CAKES.

Dissolve one cake of compressed yeast in one cup of warm water, add one half teaspoonful sugar, one cup flour; cover and set aside until light and puffy. Then add one cup sugar, one cup of warm milk, two and one-half cups flour, pour into pan, let rise until light, then sprinkle sugar, melted butter, and raisins on top and bake.

FROZEN EGGNOG.

Separate nine fresh eggs and beat the yolks until creamy and the whites until stiff. To the yolks add the sugar (one pint) beating as you add. Then add one quart of boiling hot milk. Let this stand until cold. Now add one pint of cream, one fourth pint best French cognac. Place in a freezer and freeze the same as punch. Serve in punch cups and top with whipped cream.

Clinton, Ky.—Mrs. M. C. McElroy, in a letter from Clinton, writes: "For six years, I was a sufferer from female troubles. I could not eat, and could not stand on my feet, without suffering great pain. I had lost hope. After using Cardui a week, I began to improve. Now I feel better than in six years." Fifty years of success in natural practice, is positive proof, furnished by those who have tried it, that Cardui can always be relied on for relieving female weakness and disease. Try Cardui, to-day now.

Four-Fifths of Your Store Patrons Were Won by Advertising—And Four-Fifths of These Would Be Lost if You Stopped Advertising!

Newspaper advertising is a part of all worth-while store-service—a part of it which patrons particularly value. For it keeps them in touch with your store-events, your sales, the arrival of new stocks, the showing of novelties, the buying opportunities which your store must create for its friends.

The advertising becomes the link between the store and its clientele. They expect the store's advertising to SERVE THEM—"not now and then," not partially; but ALWAYS, and fully! To curtail the advertising—in volume or frequency—would make the same impression on them as though you moved into smaller quarters and cut down your force of clerks and workers. To INCREASE your advertising to make it more complete as "store News," as a "market letter," as a bulletin of bargains—will have the effect of enlisting a lot of new store-friends every day, and of winning anew all of the old ones!

FLAG DAY PROCLAMATION

Is Issued by Governor Willson.

Sets Aside June 14—Wants all Citizens to Fling Old Glory to Breeze.

June 14 is set apart as Flag day, when the people of the States are to honor the national flag, in a proclamation prepared by Gov. Willson and given to the public. He calls on every citizen and child in this State to join in making Flag Day a great event. The following is the proclamation:

"To the People of Kentucky: The American Flag Association has issued the following appeal for a general observance of Flag day on June 14 of each year:

"We respectfully appeal to the President of the United States of America to the Governors of all the States of our land and to the Mayors of each American city to herald the coming and celebration of Flag day, June 14, 1911, by proclamation. We call upon every public officer, every teacher of the youth of our country, the editors of all newspapers, the daily instructors of the youth of our land to call public attention, to arouse enthusiasm and to provide for public exercises and general celebration of the day. We earnestly exhort our citizens to join in making Flag day an event and its celebration in 1911 a great event. Let us, from one end of our land to the other, fling the stars and stripes to the breeze on June 14, 1911.

"May it greet the rising and salute the setting sun, and float all day long from every church edifice, school and building, public and private and however humble, through the entire land."

"The people of no State love the American flag better than the people of Kentucky, and none have greater reason to love it. We are full partners in it, yielding to none in our devotion and fidelity. Its bright and beautiful colors lift up the soul of every man who looks upon it and think of its meaning and greatness, and it seems good to me to make the people think about it by calling their attention to it, and by setting apart certain times for everybody to think about it and look at it and be proud of it, and in this spirit I second the motion of the American Flag Association and in the name of the people of Kentucky ask the Mayors of every Kentucky city, the county officers of every county and all owners and keepers of public buildings, the trustees, teachers and pupils of every school and the editors of all the papers to make June 14 of this year the occasion of praise of our flag, of calling upon the people to think about it and to provide for public exercises and a general celebration of the day.

"Done at Frankfort this 27th day of May, 1911.

AUGUSTUS E. WILLSON,
Governor of Kentucky.
BEN L. BRUNER,
Secretary of State.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Her 76th Birthday.

On May 31st, 1911 neighbors and friends gathered together at the old homestead of Mrs. Charlotte Taylor, near Liberty church giving her a surprise dinner, in honor of the 76th anniversary of her birth. To say "Aunt Charlotte" was surprised when the good people began to make their appearance would be putting it mildly. She was found to be cheerfully taking up her routine duties as befits the good housekeeper on wash-day, but the tub and washboard were soon hung away on their respective pegs and friendly, handshakes, and joyful greetings took their stand. The many years of her useful life having been spent in generous hospitality she found it truly hard to withstand the temptation of repairing to the kitchen and begin to make preparation for dinner, time and again some of the good ladies would bring her away and place her in a big arm chair to await the coming of the feast. In due time she was escorted to the head of the table and given to understand that she was to be waited on and served first, this time, and such a bountiful repast as it was everything good to eat, even up to pound cake and old-fashioned light corn bread.

Truly such gatherings as these despite the hearty hospitality, respect and Christian spirit of our old landmarks. What a beautiful thought, for us to realize, while yet we live, that our friends and relatives love and honor us, and that we can manifest our appreciation of such ministrations, in words and kindly acts. To know "Aunt Charlotte" is to love her. She has lived a beautiful life, one which should be recognized as a living monument of purity and loveliness by the younger generation of her acquaintance.

May God bless her and prolong this life of hers to even the century mark. G. S.

Post-Office Clerks Were Busy.

The postal clerks in the local post office and the rural route carriers are rejoicing that the month of May has passed. Orders were sent out several weeks ago from the headquarters at Washington stating that every piece of mail handled during the month of May was to be counted. The task was a hard one and it required much time each day to do this work alone, but all of the employees at the Hartford postoffice went at it and tried to make the month pass as swiftly as possible. Miss Gunther the chief clerk, stated to a representative of The Republican that 68,853 pieces of mail were handled which shows that a great deal of business is carried on at the Hartford post-office.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Advises Boys and Girls to Paint.

In a practical talk on landscape painting for boys and girls, in June Woman's Home Companion, the author says:

"If you wish to discover the real beauty of the out of doors, learn to paint. Even though you do not yet draw very well, you may still attempt to work in color, and may learn drawing and painting in the same picture. If you can get the shape of objects fairly well, and can set them down in their relative proportions, that will do for a beginning. You may use water-colors, pastels or oils. Oils are by far the best. The great pictures of the world have been done in oils. It is the best medium for students to use, because it requires large and direct handling; faults are more readily seen, and, if you can use oils well, you can paint in other mediums without much trouble.

"If you can study with a good landscape teacher, by all means do so. If that is not possible, there is still much that you can do by yourself, for nature is the great teacher, and everyone who wants to paint well goes constantly to nature. Go out into the fields, and look and look, and then, with the best skill you have, put down what you see. Every time you look and study, you will paint better, for it and every time you paint, trying carefully to reproduce on your canvas the shapes and colors of nature, you will see more and better."

Notice to Creditors.

Creditors of the Ohio County Bank will please come forward and settle their indebtedness. It is my purpose and the desire of everybody connected with the bank to have dividends declared to the depositors as speedily as possible. This cannot be done unless creditors of the bank will assist by meeting their obligations.

Baseball News.

(BY JUNIOR.)

Beaver Dam put one over on Hartford at Beaver Dam last Saturday when they defeated Hartford to a score of 12 to 7. Beaver Dam boys were in good trim and appeared to know how to play their places, and gave Peters, their pitcher, splendid support. On the other side many of the Hartford players were new to the position assigned them, and Barnett, the pitcher did not have as good support as should have given him. The game was witnessed by a large number of fans from Hartford, and they all turned out in Beaver Dam.

The score:
Innings 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 T
Hartford 1 0 3 0 2 0 0 0 1 7
Beaver Dam 1 1 5 4 1 0 0 0 12
Struck out by Peters, 8; by Barnett 7. Bases on Balls, Hartford 5; Beaver Dam 6. Hits off Barnett 8; Peters 10. Left on bases, Hartford 3; Beaver Dam 3. Two base hits, Dick Taylor, H. J. Bell, C. Stevens, D. Taylor, Home Runs A. Barnett two; H. King 1, and L. Stevens, 1.
Time of game two hours and thirty minutes.
Umpire, J. C. Her.

An amusing thing occurred Saturday. When in the third inning Beaver Dam had made seven runs and Hartford had only made three, one of the enthusiastic "rooters" of Beaver Dam slipped a boy a half dollar and told him to get a bet for him that the visitors would lose. He was a nifty better(!)

The spectators enjoyed the two games on second between N. Taylor and W. Wakeland, but that is no way to play ball.

C. Taylor substituted for Oller in the fifth and Carpenter substituted for Forrester in the fourth, and C. Baxley substituted for Wakeland in the eighth.

When it comes to rooting Beaver Dam has one man that takes the prize. He is James Taylor, and you can always bet your beans that he will do all he can to make his team win.

In the game Saturday we noticed that a few players were inclined to get "sore" when the umpire would call a decision that did not suit them. An umpire cannot see every movement, and a player should adjust himself to the decision of the official even should the decision be questioned by every player on both sides.

An effort is being made to secure the fair grounds as a ball park. If this could be arranged it would be much more satisfactory, and "Mr. Grump" who will not pay ten cents to see his fellows play will have to stay at home and cuss, or else pay his dime.

STORIES ABOUT FAMOUS UMPIRES

Because he doesn't feel that they get a square deal from the "fan" on the field, Hugh Fullerton has written a most interesting article on the baseball umpire for the June number of The American Magazine. Here are several of his stories:

"One day in Chicago the Cubs were battling with O'Day, who, oddly enough, they like to have umpire for them away from home, but do not like on their home grounds. O'Day had sent four or five of them to the bench, chased three or four coaches off the line and finally Pat who never spoke ill to anyone, trotted out to coach at first base and restore the entente. As Moran reached first base he smiled at O'Day and remarked pleasantly 'Hello, Henry'.

"Oh, hello, said O'Day briefly, are you still with the team?

"They are square men these umpires forced to be a bit gruff and to fight, but their devotion to their work and their honest effort to discharge their duties mark them as men of high integrity. And they are game. I saw Bob Emelle once when a foul ball struck him over the heart. The pain was excruciating. His face grew white and he set his teeth together and resumed work. Three balls were pitched after he was hit. He called them all clearly. Then he collapsed, falling as if dead, and was carried off the field unconscious. One night I saw politicians, wealthy men, club owners, argue for hours with an umpire. All they wanted, him to say was 'I didn't see it. Upon those words hung the fate of a championship, the future of a major league, and the honesty of baseball. The umpire replied, 'But, damn it, I did see it.' And he saved baseball."

"The public is beginning to appreciate the umpire and the difficulties under which he labors. And when the spirit of fair play spreads everywhere, the job will be one of honor, even above that of the players."

The Olds and News played an interesting five inning game last Friday which resulted in a score of 16 to 16, while the latter claimed the game.

Tomorrow Island, Ky., will play Hartford, in this city. The game will be watched with interest, and if the Island boys can play like they could a few years ago, Hartford had better call the game off.

Dr. H. J. Bell, manager of the first team, has been off on a fishing trip this week, consequently baseball topics have been on the drag around the vicinity of the Ohio County Drug Co's.

When Hartford plays Island tomorrow it would be a good idea to secure the services of Jim Taylor, of Beaver Dam, to root for Hartford.

The bunch of fans that went to Beaver Dam last Saturday was about the quietest bunch you ever saw. "Hog" Casabier was about the only one that rooted for Hartford to any extent.
